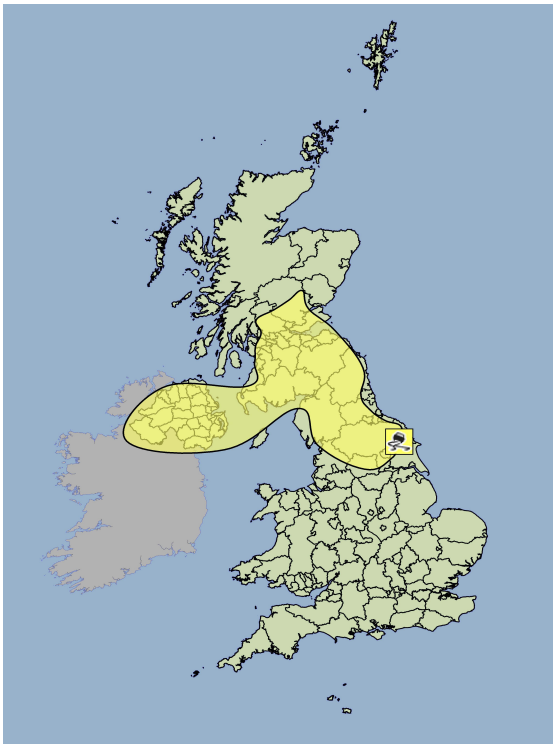
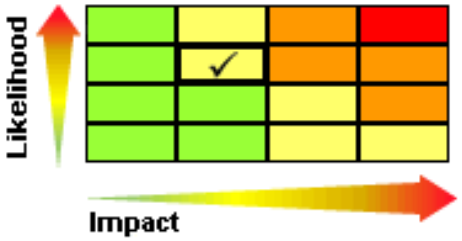
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A cold front and associated band of rain is expected to move slowly southwards across the area through Sunday evening and overnight. Some wet snow may develop for a time over higher routes. As skies clear to the rear of the cold front, road and pavement temperatures will fall away quickly and with surfaces still wet, icy patches are likely to develop on untreated surfaces.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Ice

Valid from 21:00 on Sun, 21st Feb 2016 until 09:00 on Mon, 22nd Feb 2016

A cold front is expected to clear south through the area during Sunday evening and overnight. Skies will clear to its rear, allowing road and pavement temperatures to fall below freezing. Icy patches may develop on untreated surfaces.

Please be aware of the possibility of some difficult traveling conditions overnight and at first on Monday morning.
